dedication . . .

. . . to Mrs. H. E. Hodson

Head of the Foreign Languages Dept.

Born in Victoria, Mrs. Hodson attended South Park, Elementary School and spent her high school days at Vic High. She was an active student and among other things was an editor of the "Camosun." From here she went to U.B.C. where she graduated with honours and her B.A. and M.A.

She returned to Vic High in 1924, where, besides teaching, she was adviser to the "Camosun" for 15 years, and adviser to the "Camosunet" for about ten years. She also sponsored the French Club and the Publicity Department.

She is presently Head Girls' Counsellor as well as Head of the Foreign Languages Department.

Mrs. Hodson has always been active in the B.C. Teachers' Federation, and has twice held the position of President. She is also salary arbitrator for the teachers of this province.

This spring, Mrs. Hodson was awarded the Ferguson Memorial for her contribution to the provincial teaching profession. As she is retiring this year, we too would like to show our gratitude by dedicating to her this, the 1963 "Camosun".

foreword . . .

In this day and age, every facet of our lives is being affected by scientific and technological developments. As a result, education can no longer be thought of as a relatively simple matter of schooling children, and preparing a small number of students for university training. In recent years education has become a continuing problem for everyone who wants to get along in the Space Age.

We must meet this challenge now; because students presently in high school, or on the threshold of graduation, are facing an era which may well be one of greater historical significance than any previous period in history.

Your education for the 1960's, and the future, must be superior, because it must be geared to meet the changing demands of a progressive age. In addition, it is deficient if it doesn't provide a greater preparation for understanding and living with other peoples and nations of the world.

Therefore, to the student body as a whole, and more particularly to the Graduating Class of 1963, the immediate years ahead are most significant ones. Choose wisely and well in all things as you finish school and enter adult life. Once you have left Victoria High School you will never return to relive or transform the formative years you have spent in our hallowed halls of learning.

"Any good thing, therefore, that I can do, or any kindness that I can show to any fellow creature, let me do it now; let me not defer or neglect it, for I shall not pass this way again."

G. A. V. Thomson

valedictory . . .

All our lives we have been observing the efforts, duties and responsibilities of the adult world from a position of relative security. Somehow it comes as a shock to realize that we will soon have to assume the burdens of our parents. We are no longer kids with a million tomorrows, and a "next year". Soon friends will part as our graduates; marry, travel, move, work or go on in school. Our casual school life with its many pleasant, enjoyable aspects will be gone forever. Most of us will never see each other again. We will go on to build new lives, in new places with new friends. Before we know it, it will be our children who are travelling the path we so recently have left!

We are not just leaving behind a school. We are leaving behind a way of life — the only way of life we have ever known. We are leaving behind our childhood, our adolescence and much of our youth. Surely this means something to the least sentimental of us. Suddenly we find everyday parts of school life have become precious and meaningful to us. We regret having to leave the familiar things we have lived with for so long.

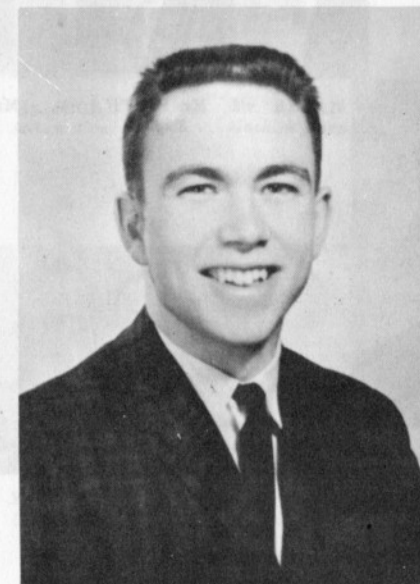

But most of all we will miss the people. Never again will friendship and conversation come so easily. Our lives will be entirely different and few of today's friendships will endure nor many of today's memories last.

We have been lucky that we came to Vic High. It is a good school. It is far better than most. For the rest of our lives we will carry the imprint of this school. In a thousand different ways we have been moulded and changed by the school, the faculty and each other.

We are young. The future still lies before us. Let us hope we make the most of what we have left.

In closing I should like to extend my personal best wishes to each and every one of you. On behalf of the grads of '63 I should like to wish the faculty, the students and the school all the very best in the years to come.

And finally, I hope that in the future the Grads of '63 can meet as friends who are proud and thankful for their days at Vic High.

staff

Throughout this past year, nearly every student has come in contact with the staff of this school, and have found them helpful and considerate in answering many queries.

Our appreciation is extended to these people, for their hard work and to the school board for their wise choices.

division 1

JUDITH ANDERSON—A member of the Future Teachers' Club and Music Appreciation, Judy also belongs to a Hi-C group. A pianist, she teaches as well as taking lessons. Besides singing in an out-of-school trio, Judy works in a local sports shop. This busy girl plans to get a teaching degree in music and then go to college for a nursing degree.

PATRICIA BOWDEN—One of those mysterious, but well known "A.B.S.", and a member of the Grad Choir, Pat is a real asset to the class. In her spare time she marches with the Victoria Girls' Drill Team and works in a doctor's office. Her future plans include a career in nursing.

HEATHER BRAYSHAW—

Burnished gold hair and eyes flashing green. Violin under chin, Heather is seen. Musical Arts is one of her choices. And hers is among the Grad Choir voices. Clever and happy, this musical miss Looks to Vic College—then years of bliss.

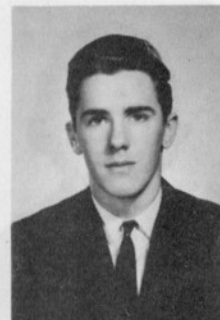

DIANA BROWN—Diana is one of Div. 1's outstanding members. Besides being one of the "scholars" in Grade 12, she is active in the Orchestra, Grad Choir, Victoria Musical Arts Society, St. Barnabas' Choir, and the Greater Victoria Schools' Symphony Orchestra. She teaches music for profit and takes clarinet for fun. Luckily for the ailing, Diana plans to go to college and become an M.D.

MADELEINE COUPE—Our petite French girl, Madeleine is active in C.Y.O. and also works during the summer at St. Joseph's Hospital. After Grade 13, Madeleine plans to take a course in Laboratory Technology at Burnaby Technical School and finish training at St. Joseph's.

R. K. BLOOMFIELD.

Marvel at the human hands,
Weaving lovely coloured bands,
Painting pictures, building lands,
Making Destiny. Who understands
The miracle of human hands?

God in His wisdom building in Time
Took the unlovely primordial slime
And out of the depths of His Spirit Sublime
Fashioned for Destiny, your hands and mine.

So we seek happiness in the great union
Of spirit that plays its sweet songs on the lyre
Of hands that are working in active communion
With impulses born in the mind like a fire
To build, to make real the dreams of the daytime
And glorify Life in the work that is fine,
So when working with faith to the heights we aspire
Our minds will not weary; our hands will not tire.

No doubt we'll continue developing brain
With words and ideas our latest domain
And grow with new wisdom out of the pain
Of animal nature and efforts in vain.
But however far-reaching advances in thought
Make a push-button world of comfort that's bought
With ingenious machines we've so ardently sought,
We will probably find that the hands will remain
A source of true happiness ever the same
In the joy of their skill and the fame of their name.

R. K. BLOOMFIELD.

The human hands are used for all facets of life work. Throughout each student's school life he learns to manipulate many different tools. And each learns, through study and practice, to become adept in the use of his chosen tool.

All students, no matter what their special field, have a tool, an instrument, with which they work daily . . . the tool of the mind. And all students learn, through study and practice, to become adept in the use of this most valuable tool. Let us endeavor to use it wisely.

The general council has had fairly good attendance and has proven co-operative for all council ventures. Thanks go to all sponsors, who have ably assisted the council, and best wishes go to next year's council.

block v club

After completely reorganizing Vic High's athletic system, Mr. Price took another big step forward by introducing the "Block V Club." Although its activities were limited because of the late start a good foundation has been laid as a basis for a good club next year. Winners of the coveted block V's are all automatically members of the club. First president of the club was Jeannie Scott; vice-president was Leigh Large.

library club

Able to put to work this year was the Library Club under the direction of Mr. Newsom, sponsor; Doug Cliff, president; Evelyn Dorosh, vice-president; and Lynn Chapman, secretary. Field trips and films rounded out the busy lives of the club's members. Many facets of library work were delved into with enthusiasm.

prefect committee

One of the most difficult tasks in the school is undertaken by a committee of students under the name of "Prefects." This hard-working group was headed by Darylene Haggerty, and the duty of keeping Vic High's hallowed halls free from traffic each noon hour from 12:25 to 12:50 was made possible by class presidents and house captains. Members for this year, under Mr. Lorimer, the Prefect Committee's sponsor, were: Gudrun Lauesen, Jo-Ellen Graham, Dave English, Bryan Marrion, Bob Armstrong, Ellen Smith, Myna Fyfe, Adrian Andrew, Carole Lam, Candis Heath, Roslynn Hammer, Chris Sundby, Pat Whalen, Bill Hanson, Trisha Casey, Nirmal Dillon, Janet Holland, Eileen McCammon, Bruce McConnon, Jean Scott, and Stan Thame.

CAMOSUNET EDITORS

camosunet

Throughout this year, the hard-working Journalism class, under fine supervision of the editors: Karen McIvor, Judy Druce, Don Ferguson and Neill Gaddes have produced six sparkling, witty, superbly-written, and high calibre issues of the school scandal sheet, the "Camosunet." Also in there, somewhere, was our favorite reeve and sponsor, Mr. Murphy. Our appreciation is extended to our readers, for reading; our advertisers for advertising, and all our helpers for helping us out with typing, car rides and moral support.

Compliments of F. W. WOOLWORTH CO. LIMITED Downtown Store — Corner of View and Douglas Streets

social committee

This year the Social Committee has been a social success. The excellent promotion of the Executive of the Students' Council has been displayed by the wonderful attendance at all dances.

"Leaves" decorated the Fall Students' Association Dance to get the year under way. Last year's grads were welcomed back with a "Spring Teahouse" theme. For the Christmas dance, "Christmas" was the likely subject with a grandly decorated tree. Next came the Valentine Dance with its traditional hearts and cupids. For the first time a Spring Prom was held in May instead of the usual Sports Dance. A May-Pole and flowers brought a hint of summer and of holidays to come.

publicity committee

Few members made up the Publicity committee, but a mammoth job was done by them.

Groups requesting posters helped in preparation and painting of posters but the main planning and execution was done by the committee.

Posters for basketball games, cross-country races, pep meets, drama and music festivals, rugby games, and Richard of Bordeaux — all were put out by the Publicity Crew.

Under the direction of Mr. Sample the band this year developed into a well-supported, successful group.

The entire year was tightly packed with performances — four morning assemblies, a noon-hour Christmas Concert, a pep rally at the Colonist Cup Soccer Game, a parents' night with Central Junior High School Band at Central, and participation in the Victoria Day Parade, the Music Festival, and a concert in Beacon Hill Park.

The band raised about $250 this year in the Cake Sales before Christmas and the Spring Band Concert which was an especially well attended production.

The band shared the first class "superior" rating with Mount View in music festival competition. After such a successful year, the band hopes for another one like it next year.

orchestra

One word which can best describe the Vic High Orchestra this year is "busy." Under the leadership of Mrs. D. Evans, it performed several times in Assembly and provided musical backgrounds for "Richard of Bordeaux" and "Song of Summer."

While most people had a holiday, the orchestra worked, performing for the Teachers' Convention.

Further afield, members took a trip to Duncan and a longer jaunt to Kamloops. Nearer home, they played in the Festival with two high-ranked pieces. The annual concert and a Sunday concert at Beacon Hill Park were the last endeavours of the year.

grade 12 choir

Nearly 100 members worked hard at making this year a year of achievement. They sang "When the Foeman Bares his Steel" from "The Pirates of Panzance" at the Music Festival.

Around the school, the choir presented entertainment during Assemblies, and sang old and new carols at the School Carol Service. A year of service was completed as the Grade 12 Choir presented a choral programme at the Recognition Ceremony in June.

Congratulations to the Grads of '63 from BETA HI-Y "THE BETTER HI-Y"

mixed choir

Among all the choral groups at Vic High, the strongest group is the Mixed Choir. In the "Song of Summer," presented in early March, the singers brought Elizabethan England to life by their presentation of a sixteenth century village fair. "How Calmly the Evening," first heard in the Victoria Music Festival, was sung by the Grad Choir at the Recognition Ceremony.

camosun staff

This year, the Camosun staff have been better, bigger, and busier than ever before. Our editors, Bob McMaster, Tim Taylor, Don Ferguson and Tim Vernon have done an excellent job of their special departments, and of layout. Our business managers Neill Gaddes and Judy Druce have piled up the long green in short order, and our advertising manager, Dave English, has brought it in for us.

Our art editor, Dar Haggerty has done a marvellous job of the cover and divider pages, and Jo-Ellen Graham and Synnove Petersen have beautifully illustrated the literary section.

The Journalism class have been faithfully punctual with their assignments, and Judy Rose and the girls in the Commercial office have been invaluable with their typing and bookkeeping.

It's a good annual. Hope you enjoy it!

pep band

Decreased size, the ability to play together, and greater support of the fans have all made the Pep Band more successful this year than last. The members, Bryan Marriou and Richard Sunderland, have played mostly at basketball games, but have also arrived at various cross-country ordeals, track meets, and soccer games. Rick will tentatively be here again next year, but the school will be lucky to find a willing supporter of school spirit to replace Bryan.

booster club

Newly formed late this year, the Booster Club has been studying ways to increase school spirit. Feeling a need for a group dedicated to nothing but school spirit, the members founded the club as an experiment. Club members this year were Leigh Large, Rich Ogmundson, Bob McMaster, Rita Gustus, and Neill Gaddes.

music appreciation club

The Music Appreciation Club spent an interesting year, eating, doing homework, or just relaxing while listening to a variety of recordings—everything from Beethoven to the Bossa Nova.

Special meetings this year consisted of talks by students and Mr. Roberts, the sponsor, on different types of music. The executive had Douglas Cliff as president and Jennifer Self, Gudrun Lauesen and Maureen Ford as program directors.

CREATIVE ARTS CLUB

creative arts club

Sponsored by Mr. Bloomfield, this Club encourages various forms of creative expression with emphasis upon what Browning called "joy in the creating" rather than satisfaction in imitation.

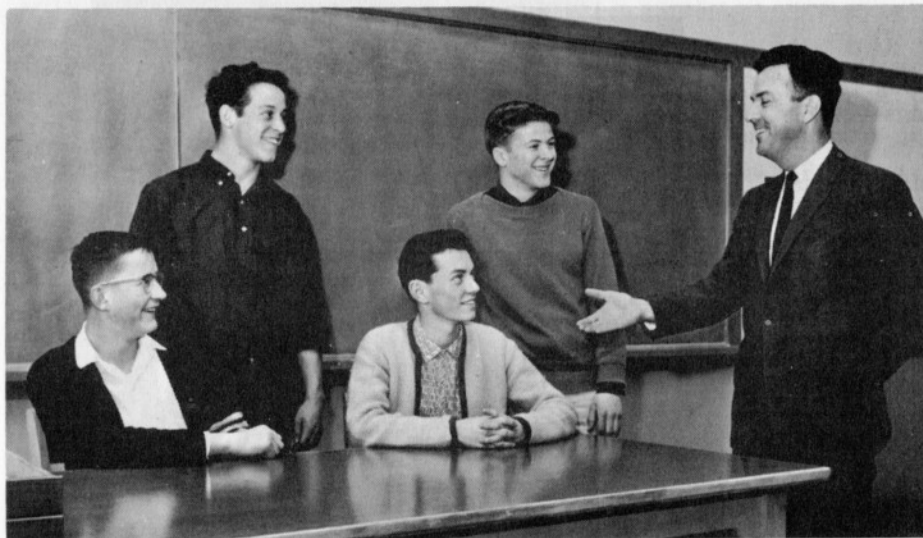

Members are few. This year, stage scenery painting has been added to the regular activities (sculpture, painting, and writing) and the settings produced for "Richard of Bordeaux" and "Song of Summer" received praise.

Creative Arts' versatile member, Gudren Lauesen is president; painter Bob Campbell, vice-president; and Leonie Gardiner is secretary.

Timothy Vernon, past president, produced the highlight of the year—an entry of three mature poems for the University of Oregon Arts Scholarship.

beta hi-y

Maintaining its reputation as the "betta" Hi-Y Club, Beta was active in many ways.

Outside of school, Beta worked for the "Colonist 500 Fund Drive," canvassed for the United Appeal, and collected clothes for Goodwill Enterprises.

At school, Beta aided school spirit by giving out free programs at Totem games, making Vic High pennants for basketball and track, selling Camosun ads, and helping with the Co-Ed Dance. To complete their busy schedule, Beta conducted bottle drives and sold pop at school functions.

Active executive who accomplished this? Dave English, president; Rick Ogmundson, vice-president; Garry Ross, secretary; Rob Ireland, treasurer; Kees Roodbol, padre; and Ian Coates, sergeant-at-arms.

alpha hi-y

Alpha has enjoyed a very successful year under the capable sponsorship and guidance of Mr. Reid and its executive: Jim Power, president; Ted Meadley, vice-president; Tim Taylor, secretary; and Doug Gregory, treasurer. This Hi-Y has performed many services for Vic High, among which are the collections and donation to the penny drive for the "Colonist 500 Fund," the selling of pop at numerous Totem games and dances, and the initiation of an order service for school jewelry. It has also promoted a closer working relationship between the Hi-Y's and the Y.M.C.A. To conclude an extremely active year, Alpha is presenting a Scholastic Achievement Cup to the Grade 11 student achieving the highest academic standing.

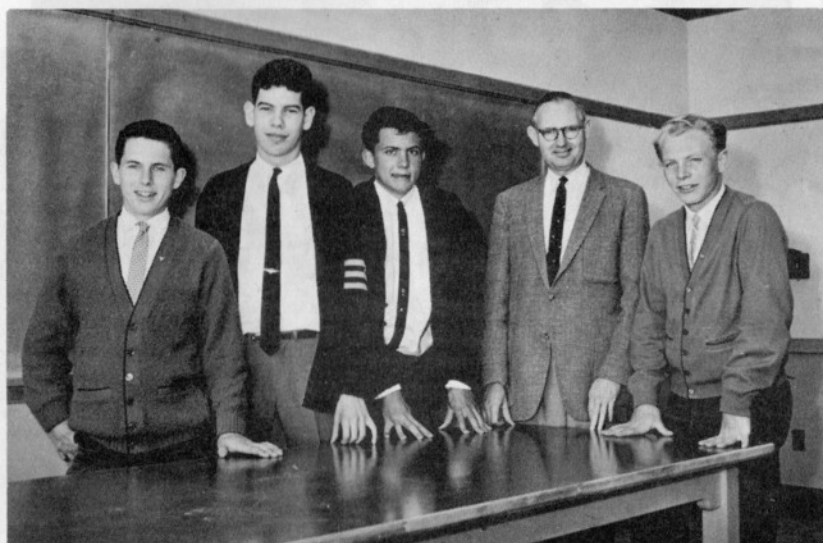

y-teens

As Y-Teens was the largest club in the school, the executive had a more than busy time organizing meetings and activities for over 100 members. This hard-working group was comprised of president, Chris Scott; vice-president, Marilyn Van Pelt; secretary, Eileen McCammon; treasurer, Myna Fyfe; and committee heads: Barb Walton, Laurie Matthews, Nicola Soutar, Rita Gustus, Melody Lindstrom, and junior representative, Barb Pridam.

During the past year, the Y-Teens could have been seen toting Goodwill bags around the neighbourhoods, down on their hands and knees measuring pennies along the halls, ushering at all the school functions, selling ice cream bars, caroling around Fairfield streets, helping LOST articles FIND their owners, singing at house parties, and enjoying a travelogue of India by the well-loved sponsor, Miss MacKay.

GAMMA HI-Y EXEC.

gamma hi-y

In its first full year of operation, the "new" club, Gamma, has proved itself equal to the older clubs, and has performed many services to the school.

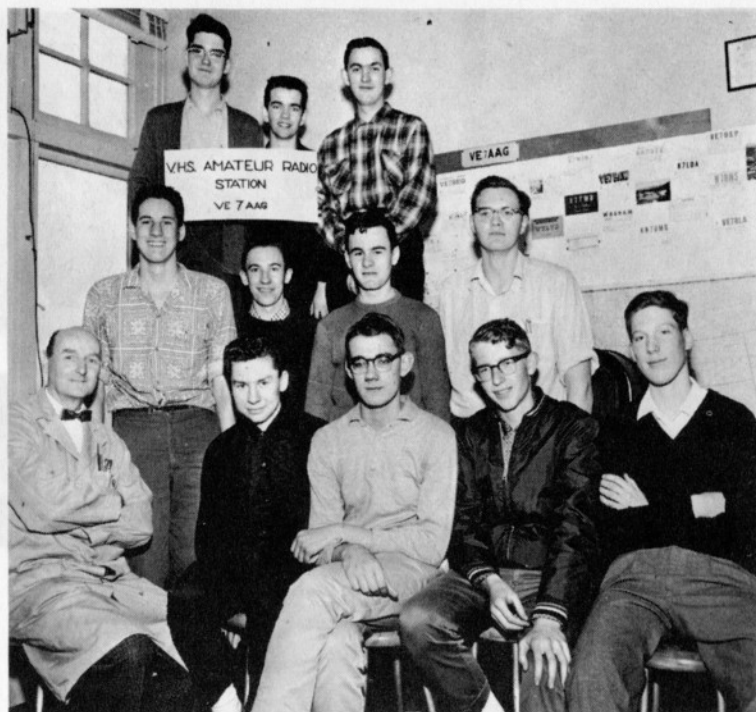

Among Gamma's many activities were: giving out cheer sheets and making attendance counts at various functions; making programs for the Colonist Cup; supporting the Penny Drive, a needy family at Christmas, and the successful Co-Ed Dance; selling beanies; canvassing for Goodwill, donating academic awards, and giving a gift to the school. The advent of Gamma on the Hi-Y scene has meant a definite boost to the strength of school activities.

Executives were: Leigh Large, president; Peter Westaway, vice-president; Neill Gaddes, treasurer; Gordon Fyfe, secretary; Ron Gamey, sergeant-at-Arms.

Mr. Vernon was the capable and helpful sponsor of this club.

radio club

Several boys with an interest in radios formed the Radio Club for this year. Sponsoring the group was Mr. R. T. Stark, VE7BEP.

President Hugh Jacobs and High Mortimer, co-ordinator of Technical Construction, received their licences, VE7BEI and VE7BHS respectively, during December. Several other members are working to get their "tickets."

Receiving the first citation (summons) in five years, the club station, VE7AAG, was visited by the radio inspector who was extremely pleased with the station and members.

A grant from the Students' Council purchased a small V.H.F. transceiver for the club.

Other officials of the club are: Len Howland, vice-president; Glen Downey, secretary-treasurer; Tim Taylor, technical committee; and Mike Hawkes, house committee.

weightlifting club

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Runer, a small but dedicated group of boys have met regularly for the purpose of improving their physical condition. The fact that the boys attempted this feat seems to point out that they were in pretty good shape to start with. The members were: Trevor Hughes, Willy Konbler, Peter Herd, Vic Webber, Ken Ackerman, Bob Sharpe, and Ken Nelson.

For every successful production put on stage this year (for example—Richard of Bordeaux, Song of Summer, the two festival dramas and Calamity Players), the Stage Crew has worked backstage with props, scenery, and stage setting to help make all a success.

For every beautifully decorated dance, the Stage Crew members have worked hard setting up the ornaments and streamers.

Vic High Stage Crew has been under the sponsorship of Mr. A. Foxgord, Mr. W. Sample, and Stage Manager, Bruce Wilby. Crew members were: Dave Crowe, Pete Mortensen, Hugh Jacobs, Scott Davies, Ron Crocker, Rick Thomas, Gudmun Gudmundseth, Jim Merrill, Wayne Holden, Ted Meadley, and Bruce Dobinson.

To supply the best sound system in the school is the purpose of this club, of which Marvin Lane is President and Rob Farmer, vice-president. Members of the club are Roy Stewart, Dan Ryan, Gregg Potter, Vickie Saunders and Shirley Kocutyn who set up the auditorium for the assemblies.

These members are all qualified projectionists and can handle any projector or P.A. in the school. In December of 1962, a new sound system consisting of ten speakers was installed to improve the sound acoustics of the school. Also supplied by the club was the sound system for the track meets.

chess club

Capably sponsored by Mr. Preston, this year's Chess Club had a very successful year. The deep meditation of faithful members at the noon-hour meetings highly paid off when the club defeated all Greater Victoria High Schools in the Baynes-Lewis tournament. The executive consisted of: Rick Lee, president; Hudson Wong, vice-president; and Dorothy Dutton, secretary-treasurer. The tournament committee was headed by Mike Slaves and Art Quon.

future scientists

One of Vic High's newest clubs (it just started this year), Future Scientists, has already hit its stride as one of the school's most successful clubs.

Items included in the years' activities were field trips, project reports, background talks, and films. At the recent Vic High Science Fair, the first prize went to Mel Falk, who built a model oil derrick, and second prize to Martin Hagerty for a ripple tank.

Sponsors of this group were Mr. W. H. Ashwell and Mr. A. G. Linfield and the executive was comprised of John Phillips, president; Martin Hagerty, vice-president; and Barb MacDougall, secretary.

i.s.c.f.

Interesting and sometimes controversial meetings have helped to make this year an outstanding one for the I.S.C.F. Club. Of the wide variety of programmes, two of the best received were the Christmas Musical and the recording of Don Lonie's "Talk With Teenagers."

Many students have found the friendly atmosphere helpful in discussing queries about Christianity. The main objective of all members was to get to know Christ better themselves and to make him known to others.

Several of those who contributed to the success of the club this year are: Brian White, president; Dorothy Dutton, secretary; Roy Hamill, prayer secretary; Janet Chapman, social convener; Jean Brown, missionary secretary; and Doris Miller, publicity director.

As usual, Vic High's Red Cross has been vigorously completing their many projects of the school year. Even though there was a shortage of male members, the female members more than made up for the lack.

In the course of the year, visits have been made to the Chinese Hospital, and the Elford Occupational Home.

Also, the club supported the projects of the International Society.

Executive members included Marion Strom, president; Sandra Barge, vice-president; Wendy Slever, secretary-treasurer; and Anne Hemp, Social Committee Chairman.

future teachers' club

Another successful year has been chalked up by the future teachers' club. Members gained much valuable information from the talks given by guest speakers. Highlights were field trips to elementary and junior high schools; U.B.C. conference, to which the club sent two representatives; and the Victoria College Conference, which was attended by future teachers from all over the lower mainland.

Executive this year included Gail Wall, president; Jeannie Scott, vice-president; and Mary Whitehouse, secretary; with Mr. D. E. Smith as club sponsor.

future nurses' club

Soc Hops, Home Nursing courses, Scrapbooks, Carol Singing, field trips, films, and guest speakers occupied some of the time of the Future Nurses' Club members, under the sponsorship of Mrs. Martin and Miss Henly.

Joyce Sandilands and Jennifer Sands are president and vice-president, ably assisted by secretary-treasurer, Ann Wild, and Programme Convenor, Carol Hay. It has been a most successful year for fun and learning.

Best wishes to next year's executive from this year's.

calamity players

This has been one of the most successful years for Mr. Mayne's "Calamities."

The S.P.C.A. (Society for the Production of Corn in Assembly) skits were all written and directed by the club's president, Muriel Bertrand.

Before the Easter Exams, three hilarious skits were presented in Assembly:

"School Net"—promotion of Booster Pass Sales.

"Father Knows Least"—promotion of "Richard of Bordeaux."

"Bonanzeretta"—promotion of the Co-Ed.

An added production of the club this year was "White Snow and the Seven Soccer Players" at the Colonist Cup Pep Meet and after Easter we were once more entertained in Assembly with their enjoyable antics in "Spring Along With Me."

Taking part in these productions were: Muriel Bertrand, president; Richard Slater, vice-president; Jennifer Self, secretary; Allan Hubbard, assistant director; Pat Conrad, Pat Litster, Suzanne Derricks, Evelyn Dorosh, Sheila Pearse, Tim Vernon, Ann Appleby, Finn Walters, Judi Henderson, Martin Haggerty, Tom McKeachie, and John Burghusch.

Several members of the Thespians participated in the Drama Festival and in the production of the fall play "Richard of Bordeaux." This exclusive club is restricted only to those who have earned points in the fine arts. Some of the members were involved in the Calamity Players.

This year's executive were Muriel Bertrand, president; Bruce Wilby, vice-president; Richard Slater, secretary-treasurer, and Mr. Mayne, sponsor. Other members included Pat Conrad, Suzanne Derricks, Evelyn Dorosh, Gudrun Lauesen, Pat Litster, Jennifer Self, and Timothy Vernon.

french club

If realizing one's objectives can be said to constitute success, the French Club certainly enjoyed a successful year. Perhaps the most important result of this year's work is the amalgamation of the French clubs of all the Victoria area high schools into one group, under the leadership of Vic High's Diane Paquette. This composite group held several meetings, each school taking a part in the entertainment. Also, the clubs collaborated in organizing the Greater Victoria Schools' French Scholarship to Banff, which will send one student from this city to a summer course at the School of Fine Arts.

Vic High's club comprised approximately eight regular members and an executive of seven, made up of Darrell Short, president; Michelle La Bossiere, vice-president; Diane Paquette, secretary; Karlina Wymore, treasurer; and a committee of Beverly Porter, Christina Halton, and David Gillett.

u.n. club

As most of last year's members graduated last June, the U.N. Club concentrated mainly on a "rebuilding" program. During noon hours, members watched movies, held debates and listened to guest speakers. High-lighting the year was the visit of Michael Clague, Youth Secretary of the U.N. Association in Canada.

Outside of the school the club participated in the U.N. Inter-high Council, and a model assembly at Norfolk House School. This summer, five members will attend a U.N. seminar at U.B.C. United Nations executive this year included president, John Bergbush; vice-president, Nora Kong; and secretary, Gudrun Lauesen.

model aircraft club

This club has enjoyed an active year under the leadership of president Rod Evans; secretary, Mike Stymest, and club sponsor, Mr. Evans. After school on Fridays, weather permitting, the lacrosse field was utilized as a flying area and many flying sessions were enjoyed. Apart from burning up over a gallon of fuel, several new members obtained their "wings." All are looking toward next year to another successful season.

There is an old and much-quoted saying: "Good things come in small packages." This could be in direct reference to the soccer-playing Tyees.

This past year, they had a small but nevertheless active team who managed to snatch the Colonist Cup from all savage contestants and almost . . . almost win the B.C. championship.

Co-captains Kees Roodbol and Jack Magi had a young group and eight of these members will be back next year. Thus a good foundation for Tyees-to-be.

Next year could bring that oh-so-near B.C. title to the school but even if they don't — the Tyees and Mr. Price are tops.

Front Row: Stan Thame, Dennis Morris.

Jerry Berezowski—Having a special talent of setting both Thame and Morris, Jerry progressed a very long way in his first year of volleyball.

Dave Bowering—Probably the calmest player on the court, Dave defied all known and unknown rules of Physics this year with his amazing spikes.

Nirmal Dillon—Volleyball is considered a tall man's game but Nirmal managed to drive the other team crazy by returning shots from impossible places.

Bob Gay—Ranking among the best in the province for his spiking, Bob, who plays to win and never quits, has the certain advantage of seeming to have springs in his legs.

Bob Ireland—Tops at setting and possessing a spike which although not hard is extremely effective, Bob ranks among the best all round players of the province.

Jack Magi—Jack proved to be a tower of strength on offense and very powerful on defense just at the right times.

Denny Morris—Among the best players in Western Canada, Denny should not find it difficult to find a place on a Canadian representative team. Winning the most valuable players award he was also the first high school player to officiate in the tournament.

Kees Roodbal—Kees used his knowledge of soccer to a great advantage this year and often amazed the opposition by returning a hard driven spike with his head.

Gary Ross—Gary's ability to spike and jump are a pleasure to watch and had he not been forced to watch the finals because of an injury the victories at Penticton would have been even easier.

Tom Skinner—Tom is another one of those players who seems to save the good games until they are needed.

Stan Thame—Winning for his second consecutive year, the most valuable setters award, Stan proved to be instrumental in leading the team to victory over Maple Ridge.

titans

Coached by Mr. Price and Mr. Gower, the Senior Rugby team placed second in a five team league, losing only to Oak Bay. After the change of name from "Wasps" to Titans, which received unanimous approval, the team missed a berth in the Howard Russell by losing to Mt. View in a sudden-death semi-final.

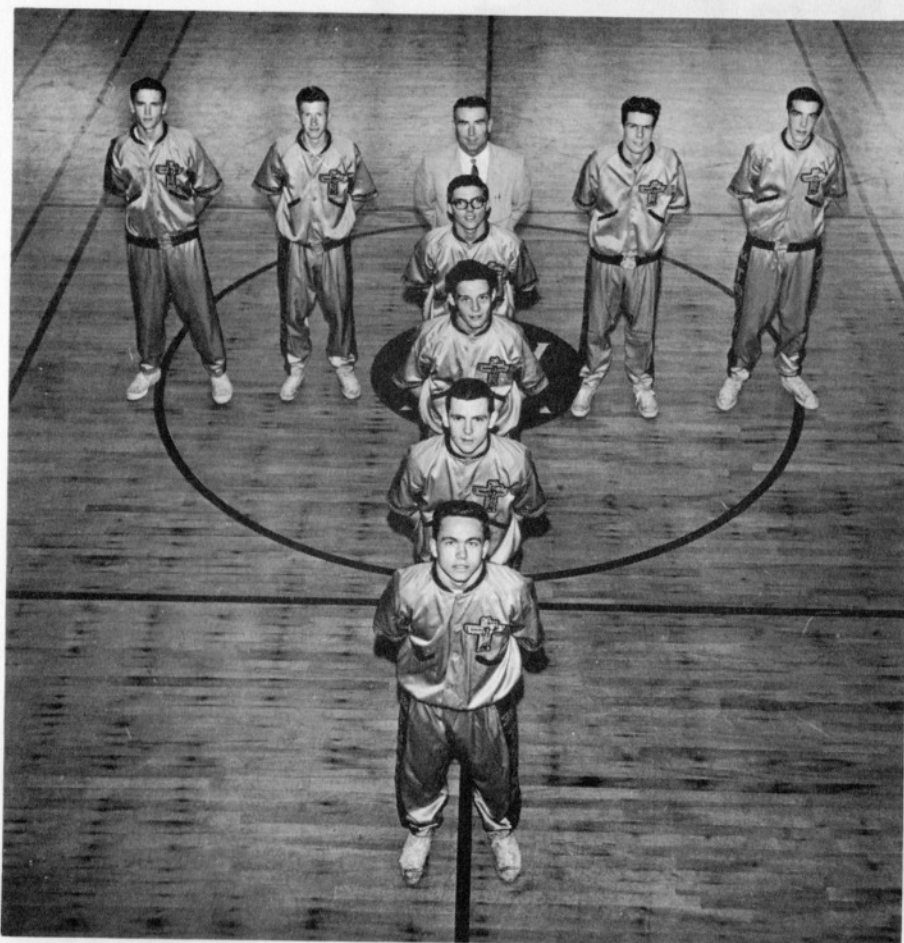

SCRUM

LINE

Stan Thame, scrum half; John Clemens, stand off; Bill Hansen, inside centre; Gary Belagenty, outside centre; Brian White, wing; Gary Hunt, wing.

Other players throughout the year—Stew Dale, Gary Marshal, Jack Magi, Henry Wegwitz, and Barry Gerard, out much of the season due to injuries.

Left to Right: Ron Stubbings, Don Frampton, Mr. Andrews, Dave Benn, Barney Spaven, Danny Soberg, Doug Gregory, Leigh Large, Richard Ogmundson.

Starting the basketball season off with a "bang", the Totems won the Inter-city league and many exhibition games against strong Vancouver teams. Although sickness plagued the team members, they went on to win the Lower Island championship, a victory traditional to Vic High for the past eight years.

The Up-Island tournament, however, told a story of a different tale. The team was upset by Courtenay and then lost by a thin margin to the Alberni Chieftans (who later went on to come second in the B.C. Championships). By losing a second game to Courtenay the team was ineligible to play in Vancouver for the B.C. title.

As most of the team members are in Grade 11, next year should be very promising and successful.

Team members are—Rick Barnswell, guard; first star on last year's B.C. team. Played capably all season, made Island second all-star team.

Leigh Large, guard; plagued by injuries, played well when given a chance, won Inter-scholastic M.V.P.

Rich Ogmundsen, guard; captain, high scorer.

Doug Gregory, only grade 11 guard; played well.

Dan Soberg, forward; outstanding hustle and drive.

Don Frampton, forward; fast, developed good jump shot.

Dave Benn, forward; best shot on team.

Barney Spaven, forward; strong rebounder, good for points around hoop.

Ron Stubbings, centre; strong rebounder, had occasional flashes of brilliance.

Back Row—Left to Right: Gary McGregor, Allan Valliant, Dave Rasmussen, Dave Crandell, Rick Jones, John Dodds, Dan Cousins.

cross country

With Mr. Hartley as coach, Vic High's Cross Country team has done well this year. Members participated in most of the important races. Though they won few trophies, our boys were near the top in all races.

November 10 marked the first major race, the Pacific Northwest Race, with Earl Speakman, Allan Valiant, Jerry Johnson and Kevin McCullough finishing near the top.

Both in the Canadian Legion Race and Admiral Nelles Race, Earl Speakman and Allan Valiant were outstanding. Ron Stubbings won the inter-house meet.

At Cowichan High, Allan Valiant, Earl Speakman, Kevin McCullough, and Dan Cousins were our first four runners across the line.

In the first junior race of its type, for which Sutherland Junior High from Vancouver came over, Dave Crandall came first. Earl Speakman and Allan Valiant were 10th and 14th respectively in the B.C. Championship at Lester Pearson High.

Earl Speakman won the Canadian Legion Six-mile race on March 15 with Allan Valiant, fifth; Don Cousins, ninth, and Dave Crandall, eleventh.

tigers

Coach and sponsor Mr. Lorimer has good reason to be proud of his senior girls' basketball team, the Tigers, who, as well as topping their own league, placed first in the Lower Island Tournament.

Although the team was beaten out by one point in overtime play by Qualicum in the Island Tournament, they qualified to attend the B.C. High School Tournament. They were eliminated from play in the fourth game.

Darylene Haggerty, B.C. free throw champ, tied the previous B.C. record, shooting 17 baskets out of 20.

The team included: J. Scott (captain) centre; M. Van Pelt (assistant captain) guard; D. Haggerty, guard; S. Campbell, forward; E. Ennis, forward; C. Pike, centre; L. Curry, forward; E. Mellors, forward; B. Pridham, guard; S. Stevens, guard; Frieda Hass, manager; Mr. Lorimer, coach.

Mr. Smyth, Roslynn Hammer, Vicki Sargent, Mary-Joan Bourne, Glenda Joyce, Shirley Stevens, Gaynel Finnley.

golds' volleyball

Living up to their name, the Golds came out of the city championships bright and shining after winning top position on the girls' volleyball league.

Coaching the girls was Mr. Don Smyth, with Mrs. Ennals acting as sponsor.

Team members were Roslynn Hammer, captain; Mary Joan Bourne, Frieda Hass, Glenda Joyce, Shirley Stevens, Gill Thomas, Vicki Sargent, Barbara Reason, and Gaynell Finley.

blacks' volleyball team

Losing their only game to Oak Bay, the "B" girls' volleyball team, under captain Brenda Ferguson, made quite a success of League play. Rematches were arranged to give conquered Mount Douglas, Mount View, and Esquimalt another chance, although only four games were originally scheduled.

The energetic girls responsible for these victories are Wanda Barnes, Val Chan, Gaynell Finlay, Synneva Lauvaas, Jean Renfrew, Stephanie Sinclair, Philippa Steel, and Nancy Worden. Mrs. Ennals was their staff sponsor, and Mr. Smyth coached. Bob Goy helped with the coaching, and also donated his able services as referee.

golds' grass hockey

Every Tuesday and Thursday from September to November, on the mud-green, feet-drowning, lime-lined marsh on the east side of the school, could be seen against the bleak, grey drizzle anywhere from six to 21 girls (?) digging around in the mud with queer, hooked sticks and occasionally turning up something white. This, let me make it clear, is the Gold hockey team, not the detention squad.

Under the capable direction of Miss Ruckle, the excellent leadership of Myna Gay Fyfe, captain, and the assistance of their reliable manager, Frieda Hass, coupled with some fine playing by the team itself, the Golds had their usual successful season. They placed first in the inter-high tournament and made their dint in the field at the Bridgeman Cup game. It was at the Bridgeman Cup that they won their first game (1-0) against Queen Margaret's School, the school which later won the cup—although the Golds were defeated by some fluke by North Saanich.

blacks' grass hockey

Not the best in skill but full of spirit, the junior grass hockey team hopes next year will bring better success. Under the able sponsorship of Miss Ruckle and patient management of Brenda Ferguson, the team did tie one game against Mount Douglas.

Stalking the goal was Barbar Langton, while Heather McLean, Beverly Porter and Patty Barber warded off the attacking blows as fullbacks. Half-backs Gaynell Finley, Val Chan, Wanda Barnes and Shiela Pearce. The forwards were Glenda Joyce, Synneve Lauvaas, Eileen McCammon, Marg May-smith and Vicki Sargent.

junior soccer team

Runners up to the Junior Soccer Championship, Vic High finished behind Oak Bay. Good high spirits reigned as the Junior boys enthusiastically fought toward their goal — the Inter-school Championship.

Sponsor Mr. D. L. W. Wing demanded, and got, good turnouts at practices which showed the willingness and good sportsmanship of the team. All members played well but barely missed their mark.

Crew consisted of—Tony Roberts, goal; Pat Wichim, right back; Doug Ball, left back; Clint Hollefreuld, right half; Merle Schwandt, centre half, also captain; George Kenshaw, left half; Steve Barnes, right wing; Gord Fyfe, right inner; Murray Stephenson, centre forward; Derrick Reimer, left inner; Flay Hall, left inner; Wayne Les Masurer and Graham Mitchell, spares.

Despite a valiant attempt by the Teepees, the Junior Boys Basketball team finished second to Oak Bay. Other teams in competition were from Esquimalt and Mount View.

Coaching the team was Mr. Don Smyth with assistance from student manager Greg Trevor.

Team members were Dave Evans, captain; Barry Milne, Don Frewing, Jerry Vaughan, Verle Schwandt, Allan Irving, Doug Ball and John Philips.

seven-a-side rugby

Able sponsored by Mr. Price, the Victoria High Seven-A-Side Rugby team gave all opposing teams a real "fight to the finish" challenge. Although hindered by Easter exams, the team still turned out for games and practices. The seven members of the team should be highly commended for their formidable showing and merit brought to Vic High.

Scrum was played by:

Gudmund Gudmundseth—whose former experience gave this year's team a real chance at victory.

Norm Akins—hooker for the team was hooking the best.

Bob Kissinger—former seven-a-side hooker and pre-Christmas kicker, grabbed a goodly share of the line outs.

Scrum half was played by:

Peter Westaway—played an excellent role as safety man.

John Clemens—line stand off—as usual played a "sneaky" game of rugby with his usual faking and running.

Bill Hansen—one of the major scorers of the team.

Ron Stubbings—our former round ball star, Ron also plays a good game of rugby.

Spare for the team was John Lendrum.

junior rugby

In the Junior Rugby League of Victoria High, Mt. Douglas, Esquimalt, and Oak Bay, the Vic High team, playing each team twice, defeated all but the Oak Bay squad.

Besides regular League play, the Junior boys played University School in three exhibition games, winning twice.

track club

This group of boys has been working out since before Easter. Every day a few brave souls are seen pounding the track. Including many members from the Cross-Country, the Track Club, under the guidance of Mr. Price, has formed the nucleus of our track teams.

curling club

Success characterized this year's Curling Club, sponsored by Miss MacKay and Mr. Smith. Sixty-eight members divided into 17 rinks were led by the president, Brian Harvey; vice-president, Gini Favel; secretary-treasurer, Ann Zannet, and draw master, Bob McPherson.

Curlers were busy on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday

Skipped by Gini Favel, a Vic High team consisting of Carol Smith, lead; Carol Bishop, second, and Ann Zannet, third, won the Girls' City Playdowns. The boys were no less successful as the Bob McPherson rink with lead Wayne Silver; Gary Leimatta, second, and Brian Harvey, third, won the Island Bonspiel.

junior girls' basketball

Successful this year as in other years, the Junior Girls' Basketball team gained many victories. In league play the girls defeated Mount View, Mount Douglas, and Esquimalt, but lost out to Oak Bay. Members of the team were Patty Barber, Gaynell Finley, Glenda Joyce, Synneve Lauvaas, Margaret Maysmith, Joan Robinson, Vicki Sargent, Ineke Schoeman, Cynthia Slater, Sandy Smith, and Eileen Williscroft.

intramural referees and cross country officials

Referees were required for various sports including grass-hockey, volleyball, and basketball. Many thanks should be given to the group heads, Brenda Ferguson, grass hockey; Freida Hass, volleyball; and Cynthia Pike, basketball, and others who so unselfishly gave their time to referee the house games.

While everyone officiating at Mr. Hartley's cross country meets deserves praise and thanks for their hard work, special thanks should be awarded to this year's hard working head, Mary Parton. Head last year as well, she has officiated at all cross country meets since she was in Grade ten, and has never missed a meet. Others to be commended are Candis Heath, Evelyn Dorosh, and Brenda Ferguson.

bowling club

There were two leagues running all season with a play-off in each. Monday's League Champions were the "Pin Busters" and the "Fireballs" won the Tuesday's League Championship. There was a league championship play-off which was won by the "Fireballs."

Backed up by co-sponsors Mr. Fell and Mr. Bulmer, general secretary Pat Luzzi, Monday League secretary Sherrie Ennis, Tuesday League secretary Gail Pilkington, and vice-president Mike Rasmussen. President Fred Best worked hard to keep up the standard of this year's bowling club.

This year Gary Davidson had the high average with 205 and Charlie Christie had the high single with a 323 game.

Four very active members made up the coveted "300 Club."

Vic High entered the inter-high competition, the Vancouver Island High School Five Pin Championship and the First Annual Junior Pacific Coast Championship.

Left to Right: Sherrie Ennis, Gail Pilkington, Pat Luzzi, Mr. Fell, Mr. Bulmer, Mike Rasmussen, Fred Best.

ten pin bowlers

Under the sponsorship of Mr. Vernon, Vic High's Ten-Pin Club bowled at Gibson's bowladrome every Tuesday after school.

Though the club had its good and bad days, all members had an enjoyable and relaxing year.

Members included Barry Stowe, president; Candis Heath, secretary; Rita Gustus, Bob Young, Judi Brown, Laurie Matthews, Shirley Kocutyn, Finn Walters, and Linda Jines.

Top bowlers for the year were Bob Young and Barry Stowe with Rita Gustus as top scorer for the girls.

badminton club

Under the sponsorship of Mrs. Anderson, Mr. Tangye and Mr. Pluym, the badminton club progressed well with a large membership and many active members.

Highlighting the season's activities, the singles tournament proved to be an exciting competition. Rod Harvey defeated Brian Whitten, enthusiastic president of the club, for the boys' championship while Shirley Stevens played Margaret Maysmith for the girls' championship.

During the year Oak Bay sponsored an inter-high tournament in which Vic High had finalists in three of the four events.

With many outstanding junior members in the club this year, Vic High Badminton should reach a record high next year.

table tennis club

Under sponsor Mr. Mackay, the Table Tennis Club enjoyed a successful year regarding both finances and victories. Certain of the members formed a team which placed second in the inter-high competition for the Colonist Cup; they were Paul Louie, Charlie Lee, and Lorraine Lowe.

The winners in the club's own competitions were Wilf Nenzi, and Lorraine Lowe in the singles, and in the doubles Wilf Nenzi and Vic Summerfelt, and Lorraine Lowe and Gill Thomas.

The top players during the months of competition for the ladder tournament were all on the executive: Lorraine Lowe, president; Garry Restell, vice-president; and Wilf Nenzi, secretary-treasurer.

basketball timers and scorers

Larger this year than in previous years, the basketball timers and scorers group timed and scored the Totem games, the Teepee games, and the Junior Representative Girl's games.

Since the majority were Grade 12 students, it was necessary to train a number of Grade 10's to take over next year. Of these Grade 10's only three were chosen. John Chapman, Hanne Poulsen, and Pat Hamilton.

Most of the rep. games were done by the Grade 12's but each Grade 10 scored or timed at least one game. During the second term the house games were done entirely by the Grade 10's.

Rita Gustus and Brenda Ferguson headed the group while other Grade 12's were Beverly Porter, Roslynn Hammer, Donna Wallace, Sandy Hope, and Val Ko.

equipment room

Fulfilling a long-time dream of Mr. Price's, the equipment room was put in operation, distributing sports equipment and uniforms from the old gymnasium. All equipment used in athletics had to be signed in and out of the equipment room.

As this was the first year for the club, the operating procedures changed many times. Manager-in-chief of the club was Brenda Ferguson, who saw that the commercial office received all sports' notices.

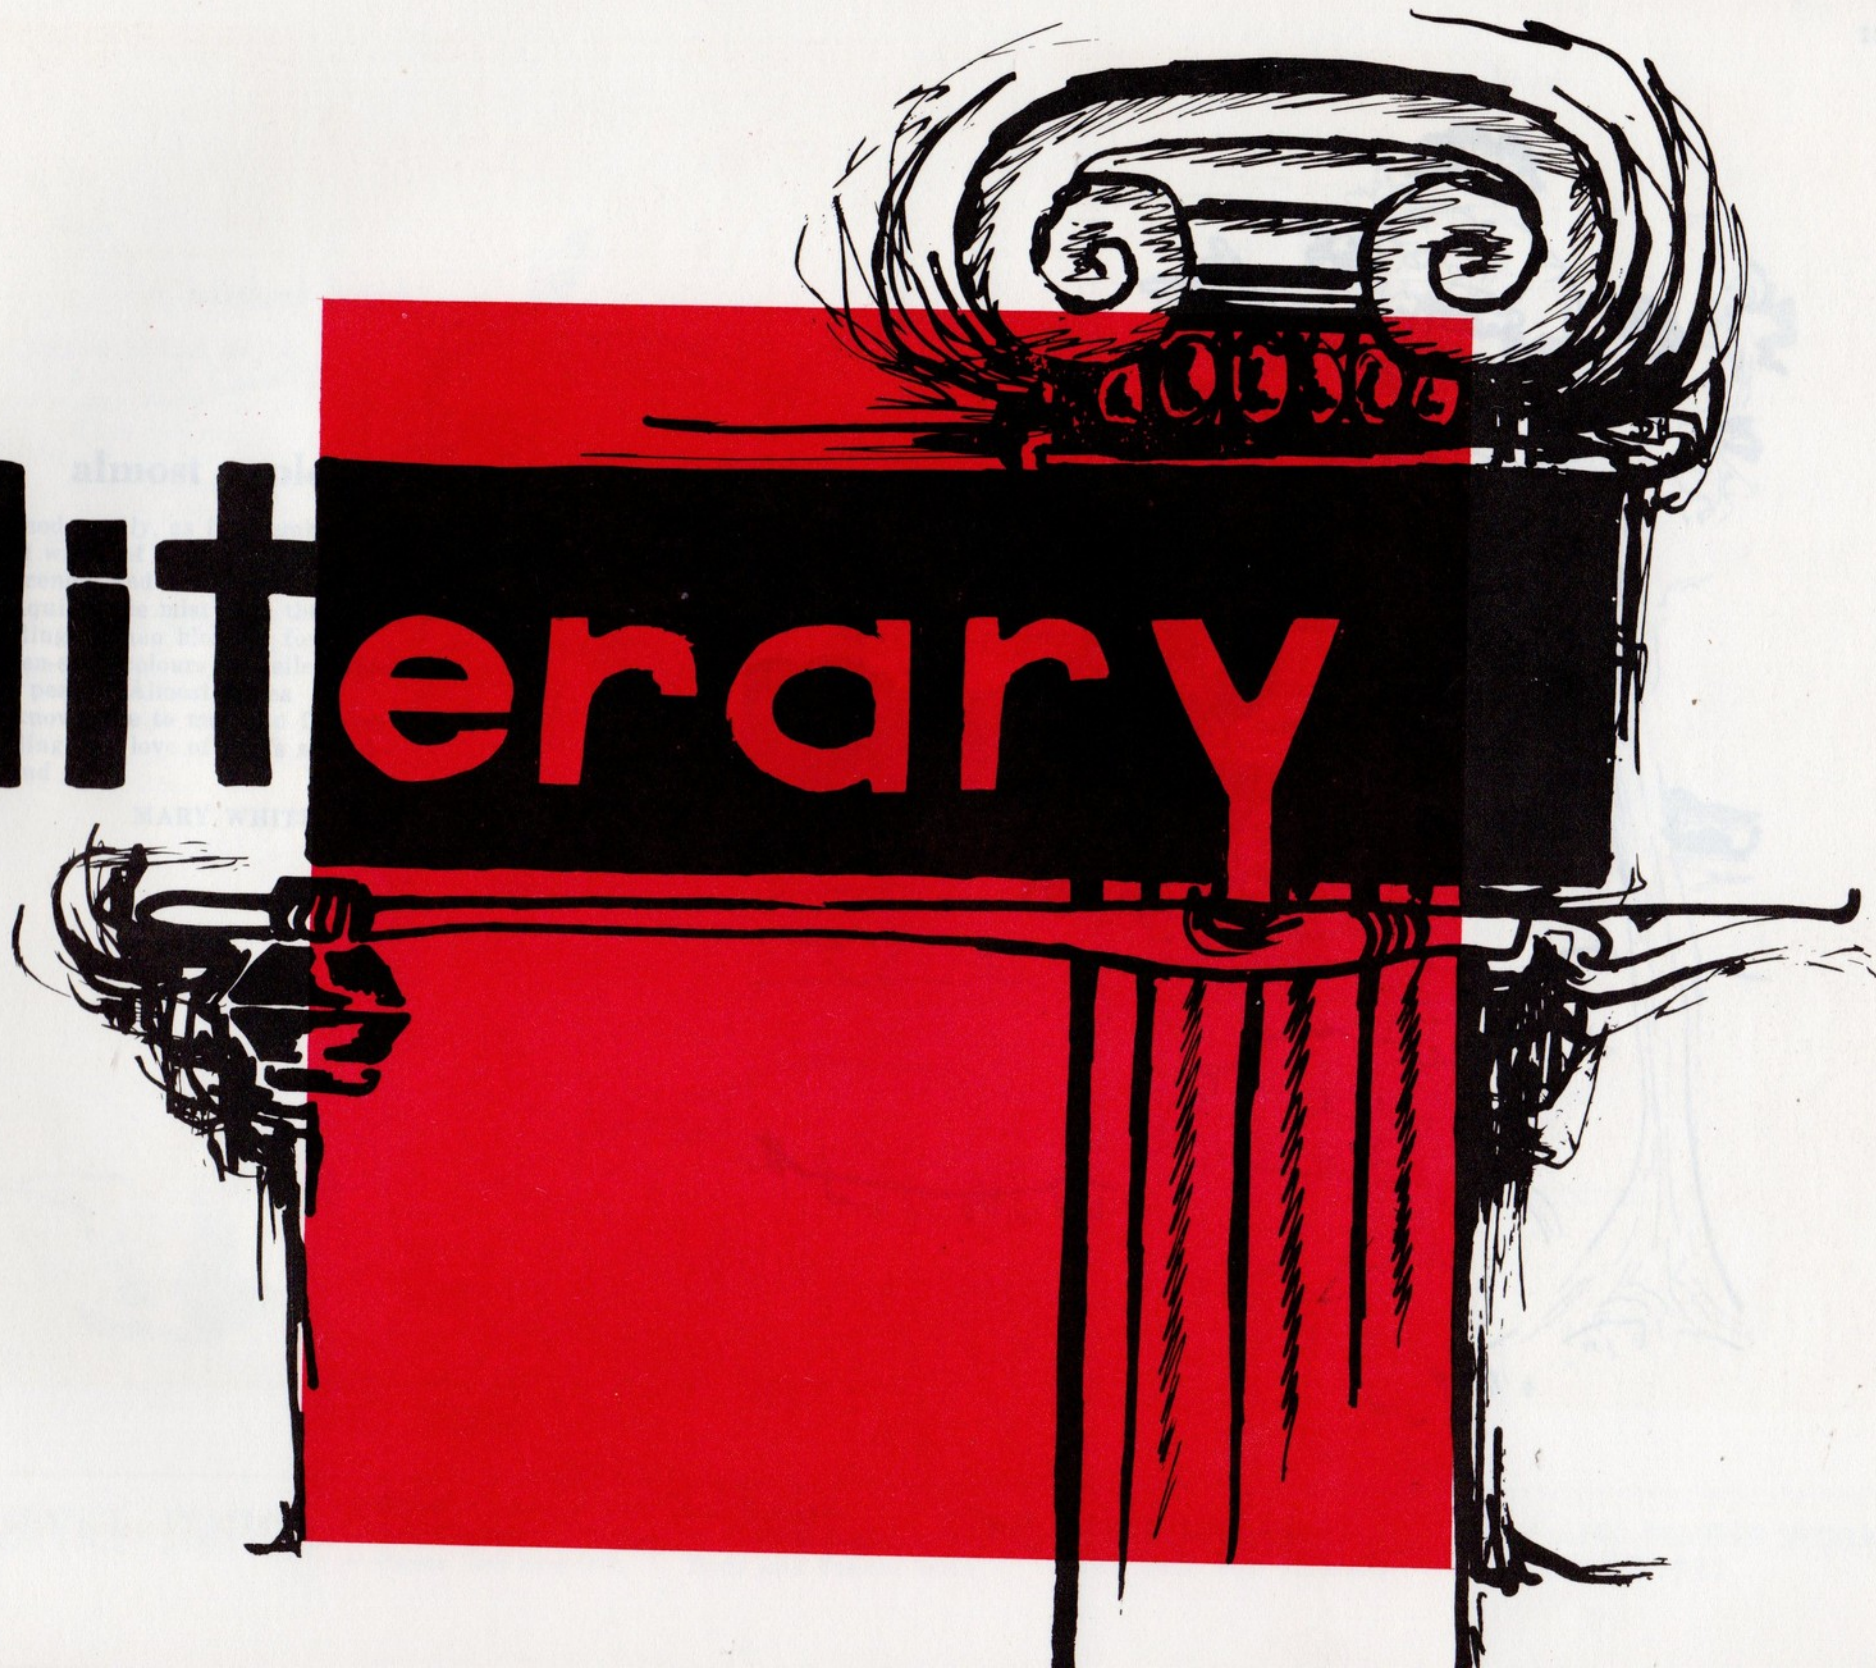

Other members of the club were, Dave English, the link with the Students' Council; David Sommers, Alan Lindquices, Bob Tate, Pete James, Elizabeth Labonde, Greg Trevor and Roslynn Hammer.

almost a plea

Tall trees nod gently, as if to embrace
 The winged wisps of clouds;
 A calm descends, and about the sun's face
 Blends the quiet pale mist with the steady grey sea.
 Her ferns linger, then blossom forth
 After heaven-sent colours in veiled shrouds
 Of musical peace. Almost a plea
 That new knowledge to men can forever unfold
 Understanding and love of God's sunset—
 Rich, red and gold.

tribute to birds

Slowly coming home by
My sun-set-streaked
Street, I stopped, and as
Two old chess-men meet,
I looked twice at the blackened
Feathered ones above.
Seagulls perhaps, or maybe
Robins (for spring had come).
The V-formation flew
And, being first a poet, then
I took upon myself to address
These fleeting forms.
But ignorant of bird-type
Chat, I (being only a Cool Cat)
Found this artistic scene too
Great for this poet's pen;
So I give you the bare essentials,
And you fill in the heart.

a nickel back

I know he told me, but Being dull, I figured he'd Forget. You're not really in a rut
 When you owe a nickel. He pleaded
 To pay, and who am I to Cross him at this hour;
 For his day was then low, but
 Now he could repay; and a sour
 Disposition would make the way
 Much less easier. And so he payed
 His nickel back and left the scales ridged.
 And now I ask him why he
 Bothered to repay this measly
 Coin; Honour, maybe? But not
 All that! Perhaps the drawer Bringing fish caused the Pen's decline.

ode to a face

At the sport at
 Which I was attempting,
 I could not boast at all,
 And so my interest wandered
 From the field and call.

And noticing the buildings that
 Surround our noisy field,
 I saw first a mass of windows;
 Then a face, opaque and
 Partially concealed.

Perhaps a frightened child, lost
 Among that land of doors,
 Who, having found a place to look,
 Stands gazing at the gore.

Or the elevator girl,
 Having nothing to do,
 Stares out that window
 Just for the view.

Or perhaps a worn peddler
 Who, having witnessed the grief
 That comes with selling, stands
 There seeking confidence, relief.

Or perhaps just a face,
 With no-one attached,
 To give me a topic,
 A message, dispatch.

Alas, I lost my game
 With my gameless grace,
 With only one consolation:
 I found myself a face.

And now whenever I enter
 That apartment-circled place,
 I look for that single window
 That contained the lonely face.

ode to a face

At the spot at
Which I was attempting
I could not bear at all,
And so my interest wandered
From the field and call

And noticing the bellows that Sounded our noisy field
I saw first a mass of windows;
Then a face, opaque and
Faintly visible of a child

Perhaps a frightened child, lost
Among that land of hope
Who having found a place to look
Stands staring at the look

Poor imprisoned flower within a vase,
This is not thy garden, nor thy sun,
Sweet vision, plucked from thy pensive daze,
That silent page will be thy finale one,
Farewell, dear pilgrim, I have seen thy last.

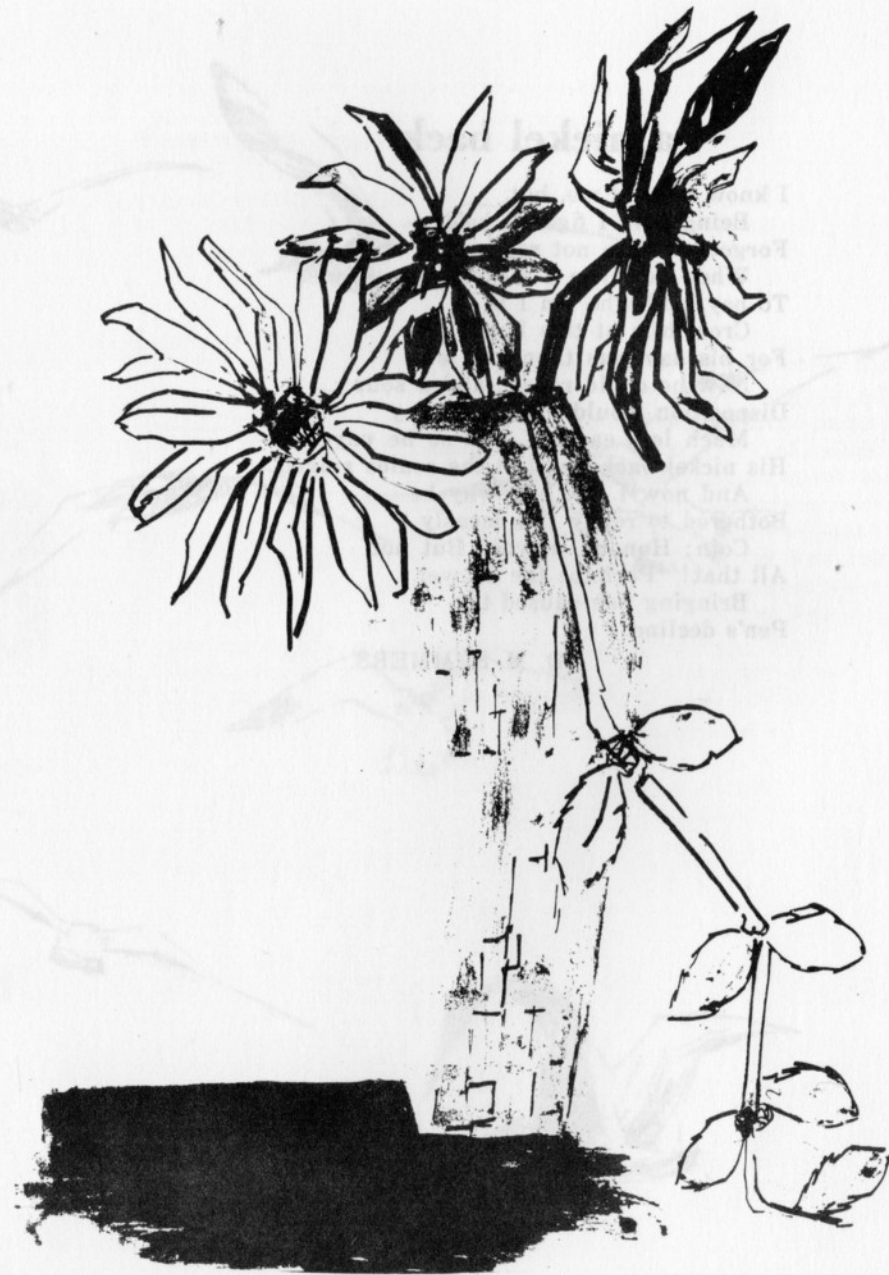

Such am I within a vase of iron,
Cold, cruel, fireless is my barren plain.
Yet, my companion, with thee I am one,
Who sways carefree across life's sad refrain.

PEGGY FORSBERG.

Alas, I lost my name
With my forgotten grace
With only one consolation:
I found myself a face.

And now whenever I enter
That apartment-circled place
I look for that single window
That contained the lonely face.

song of a cannibal gourmet

He laughed as he lurched through my broken-down door,
He leered as his beer bottle broke on the floor.
As he felt his knees buckle, he let out a chuckle
And slowly collapsed on the ground.

He strained and he groaned, he attempted to rise,
He even rotated the whites of his eyes,
With an effort fantastic, for a man not gymnastic
He dragged himself up to his feet.

I looked at him there as he twisted and swayed,
Clutching a chair for support.
His beard, it was tawny — his face, it was scrawny,
His nose, it was bulbous, as if it were made of a fruit or balloon of some sort.

I approached him as near as 'twas humanly able;
The smell was disgusting, I climbed on the table—
The stench still pursued me; I could not elude it—
I picked up a skillet

With a powerful swing and a musical cruch,
I bashed in his skull, and I ate him for lunch.

the crammer and his art

(Banned to Staff Members)

The crammer is a distinguished species. He is an ingenious sloth who has a slight, anxious crease on the brow and a flashy grin. The crease worries him and he tries every night to make it disappear in a froth of Nivea Cream—but it is always there the next morning. He is proud of his grin and finds it very handy—it compensates for many things.

The crammer, apart from his crease and grin, is easily spotted. He is the one who keeps a paper-back behind his large English textbook, who sends out a great deal of small correspondence during the day, who likes having arguments with someone across the aisle while the teacher is speaking. He yawns and sighs audibly during class.

Now, there are two distinct types of crammers. One takes his art seriously and the other does not. The latter is not worth considering. The former, two months before a set of exams, decides that it would be a good idea to start studying early this time. So he makes out a study time-table and then sits back and relaxes, his conscience eased. A month before the exams, he decides that study time-table isn't good enough, so he makes out another, then sits back and relaxes, knowing that he will start tomorrow. Two weeks before the exams, he begins to worry. He worries for a week. A week before the exams, he wonders which is the easiest method of suicide. Two days before his first exam, he starts making frantic lists of Important Points. The day before the exam, he studies from dawn until midnight.

The art of cramming can only be cultivated over a number of years. It takes great concentration and will-power — for it is very difficult to concentrate on not concentrating and then concentrate, is it not?

for freudians

(A dream inspired in part by a history lesson on the Nazi extermination of the Jews.)

The small, top-storey room was in half darkness. The door was shut, the windows closed, and the blinds down. The three of us stood in the middle of the floor, pale in the gloom.

"In five minutes the room will be filled with poison gas," repeated the man quietly. There was only one thing to do: get out. So we opened the window and I slid down the side of the house and landed on a trampoline. The man came down after me, but the old lady could not make it. So the man and I set out for help. We were walking along a broad, grassy path. Around us squatted low, grey-green mountains. The air was fresh and smelled of damp forests. Suddenly, against the mountain side I saw four flamingoes, necks outstretched like cormorants

blossoms

I see the cherry blossoms are in bloom,
 Blooming, blooming everywhere.
 I see the peach blossoms are in bloom,
 Blooming, blooming here and there;
 Blossoms, blossoms, pink and white,
 Pink and white, and white and pink,
 Blossoms, blossoms everywhere.
 If you ask me which is best to choose,
 I would not tell you which is best;
 If you ask me what I would do,
 Ah, I would tell you what I would do;
 I would paint them with my best of brush,
 I would paint them with my finest of paint,
 I would paint them with my cleanest of paper,
 I would paint them today and today,
 Morning, noon, and night,
 I would paint them once,
 I would paint them twice,
 I would paint them three times,
 And more and more.
 I see the cherry blossoms are in bloom,
 Blooming, blooming everywhere,
 I see the peach blossoms are in bloom,
 Blooming, blooming here and there,
 Oh, such blossoms of beauty
 And of grace,
 I can admire you today
 And only today,
 For tomorrow you will leave forever
 Without a trace.

civilization and the search for beauty

Man, science believes, evolved on this planet a millenium ago from some more primitive form of mammalian life. From the first instant that one ape-like creature stepped over the threshold from the darkness of mere existence into the light of conscious reasoning, mankind came into being. Today man is represented by two and a half billion stereotyped machines running blindly into predetermined directions like highly mechanized robots. Amidst these multitudes there are a few — pitifully few — people who have escaped being labelled Beta-minuses in our brave new world. These people have thrown off the "shades of the prison house" and as a result have glimpsed heights of civilized existence not dreamed of by other men. Who are these men? Where did they come from? Did their existence upon earth really begin with birth and will it really end with death? Where did these people get their rich legacy of keen insight into the human soul? These people have existed, not only in the present, but also in the past generations. Aristotle, Francis Bacon, Shakespeare, Helen Keller, and Linus Pauling, to name only a few, have all been endowed with something infinitely finer than most others possess. From their brothers of mankind, these people have captured the radiant torch of life and, after feeding the flame with their own inspirations, passed it on to their brothers in the science and arts, especially, for example in poetry, which Percy Bysshe Shelley defines as: "the record of the best and happiest moments of the happiest and best minds." What is this admirable characteristic we all aspire to own? Simply the ability to appreciate beauty. "The pure in heart shall see God" in everything around them. They look upon nothing without seeing true beauty. These people are indeed to be envied, but most pathetically because all of us can be just as happy. We can all "see life in a grain of sand and heaven in a wild flower" if we would only stop long enough to look.

The lives of Caesar, Alexander the Great, Hitler, and John F. Kennedy will never inspire men as much as the "Sistine Madonna" or a "host of golden daffodils." The way modern school children can mechanically rattle off such dates as 1066, 1485, 1815, 1914, and 1939 and yet not be able to recognize the hauntingly beautiful strains of the "Unfinished Symphony" is one of the worst aspects of our educational system. The caveman would still be a caveman if he had not learned to admire beauty. And so it is; all through history we can trace this tide of the search for beauty, and on our chart of the time we would have to show the two greatest flood tides as the Renaissance and the Romantic Age — the times when man's appreciation of beauty reached a zenith. It is a beauty which has civilized mankind, and beauty which can prevent him from self-destruction for man is the most beautiful of all.

What if a crowing scare claws at our lives,
 Do the birds know they do not belong
 In the fountain in the bubbling square?
 The children cry, 'We cannot drink for birds,
 Please help us, old man, please
 Tell us the theorem or the incantation of a formula
 To drive them all into the sea like swine
 Or bake them in a million singing pies;
 But it's too cold for us to sweat or swim, and
 Only hot enough for us to thirst.'
 The pleading grew and blossom-multiplied, deep-rooted
 In the soil of fertile-frantic repetition-loam.
 An answer-name, one time articulate,
 Crowded around the nail-head of my tongue.
 They felt its presence and quench-hopefully made way.
 I knew and could not speak or speaking know,
 And after burbling, observed them hang upon noose-words,
 And bit the tongue, life-hammer-battered numb.
 Then with a breath one straight despair-lit path
 Appeared, and this, without alternative, I took.
 Up at the fountain's edge I thrust my cupping hands
 Through claws and beaks and droppings,
 Lifted the scalding freeze away, and drank.
 Strength-knowledge flashed after enlightenment,
 And whirling round I screamed the Name
 Just as the bitten tongue crumbled to dust.
 The children's star-eyes looking at me flickered out.
 'We knew, we knew. We did not need the telling.'

TIMOTHY VERNON.

It is the fragments of your smile,
 Laughing-crystal in a sudden dark;
 The grace of darkened moth, edging away
 And, welcome, swaying nearly to a touch-length,
 Shedding mirror-glitter across the path of softing blue;
 Missed.
 There is the grace of shyness in your walk.
 The sudden corner-turning, blazoned pride,
 A needful recklessness in knowing me there,
 The darting glance falling on my cheek like a kiss;
 Studied avoidance, charming intent, and aura of the serious;
 Missed.
 It is the cherished nothing of your nod,
 Vague impoliteness to a question mark;
 The deep breath of your hedging tolerance;
 The silence of reasoning incredulity, snake-staring;
 Murmured wryness of confession, now lost; all Missed.
